

DUIRWAIGH PRESENTS THE ART OF Duirwaigh Publishing

Angel Dominguez

Angel was born in Viscaya, Basque Country, in 1953 and now lives and works in Laredo, on the north coast of Spain. He is the illustrator of over forty books which have been printed in five different languages. Among his favorites are Alice's Adventures in Wonderland published by Artisan Books, a Division of Workman, New York, the Twelve Days of Christmas published by Michael O'Mara books, London, and The King's Gift, commissioned by Queen Rania Al-Abdullah of Jordan.

In 1998 Angel's book Precisamente Asi (Just so Stories) by Rudyard Kipling won Spain's prestigious gold medal for Book of the Year. That same year several of his original works were selected for inclusion in the Chris Beetle's Gallery, London. Other original works have sold through Christie's and Bloomsbury Auctions in London and at Lewes in East Sussex, England. His unique watercolor paintings are now a part of collections all over the world.

Many of Angel's original animal and character illustrations have been used by design and gift companies across the US and UK. Corporate partners include Cardew of London and Classico. His porcelain white rabbit pill box design for Limoges-Dubarry was winner of England's Gift of the Year in 2000.

Duirwaigh is proud to be the new home for all of Angel's original works and we're delighted to represent his charming designs to corporate partners worldwide. Angel welcomes imaginative and inspired commissions and assignments from all over the world and his full library of licensable images is available upon request.
